Should the city be so inclined, it is advised to be established these organizations for charity.
Both within the city boundries, and beyond to the the lands afar.
Leaders to the city are encouraged to head this organization, and implored to accept any aid from their citizens.

What the
city has to offer,
without deminishing it's own needs should be spread to other places serving those without.

These organizations will not be overseen by any member to the Church.
Those who lead this endeavor must strive with integrity to acheive the goal of giving,
without reciept.
